the Southeast Indian Artists Association, this exhibit touches on the traditions and the related cultural experience of two ancient tribal peoples: Jewish and Native American.

An innovative look at tradition, Diaspora, family and sacrifice, Ancient Ways: Modern Forms opens February 5, 2015 at The Sherwin Miller Museum of Jewish Art and will be on display until April 2, 2015.

Transforming Hate: A Creative Process

Now-February 20, 2015

The Sherwin Miller Museum of Jewish Art is partnering with Living Arts of Tulsa for an exhibit entitled Transforming Hate: A Creative Process. Schools in the metropolitan area were invited to create original works of art addressing the subject matter of transforming hate. The current exhibition in the Sharna Newman Frank Education Gallery stimulates and transfixes observers of such astute artistic expression. Students and teachers of the participating art departments from Memorial High School, Riverfield Country Day School, Rejoice High School, Tulsa MET, Jenks High School and Mark Twain Elementary School are to be commended! Plan to visit now through February 20, 2015.

The Many Faces of Jerusalem Works from the Israel Quilters Association

October 3, 2014 - January 31, 2015

The Israel Quilters Association, in celebration of its 20th anniversary in 2012, extended an invitation to artists world-wide to attend the conference and exhibit their quilted entries. The textile exhibit, titled The Many Faces of Jerusalem, opened at Brigham Young University campus on the Mount of Olives, and is on display until January 31, 2015

The Quilters chose Jerusalem for its international, multicultural character. The Capital of Israel, Jerusalem is holy to Jews, Christians and Muslims. Jerusalem residents today are a broad representation of ethnicity and religion, living together among its rich history. The exhibited quilts are the textiles of dream, hope and memory, resulting in a multicultural feast for the eyes.

LEONARD NIMOY

Secret Selves

October 26, 2014 - January 31, 2015

Fans of both fine art photography and Star Trek legend will be thrilled with this acclaimed photographic exhibition of Leonard Nimoy Secret Selves. Nimoy, an accomplished photographer, mastered his alternate identity as the famed Mr. Spock. Nurturing his artistic interest in hidden identities, volunteer subjects were invited for photography sessions to reveal their secret selves, whether by costume, pose, or attitude. The resulting portraits are the Secret Selves exhibit.

Tours

If you would like to book a docent-led tour or to check for an available date, please contact Volunteer Coordinator Cathey Wilson at 918.492.1818 or email her at volunteer@jewishmuseum.net.

Volunteer Opportunities

Docents

A comprehensive training program prepares each docent to lead tours for both school groups and general audiences. Throughout the year, tours are scheduled at various times during the week and on Sundays, providing a flexible schedule for volunteers.

Docents take groups through exhibits related to the Holocaust, Jewish History and Culture, and the temporary art exhibits.

Anyone wishing to become a docent should contact Docent Chairman Stan Shapiro, Executive Director Drew Diamond, or Volunteer Coordinator Cathey Wilson at 918.492.1818. Those interested will be given an information manual regarding the Holocaust and Jewish History and Culture, and will need to be available to shadow docents leading tours and to attend the art exhibit orientations with Dr. York, and monthly meetings of the Committee of Docents.

Front Desk Volunteers

Consider volunteering to welcome and direct visitors to the Museum, answer phones and visitor inquiries. In addition, front desk volunteers help process admission and merchandise sales and assist staff with special events. Front desk shifts are normally three hours in length, and a variety of weekday or Sunday hours are available to volunteers, in rotation.

Volunteers perform numerous duties essential to the success of the Museum, helping avoid salary and labor costs often associated with day-to-day activities and exhibit installation. Training is provided to volunteers for areas throughout the Museum.

If you're interested in volunteering for the Museum with other dedicated, caring, enthusiastic, and friendly volunteers and staff, please contact the Volunteer Coordinator Cathey Wilson at 918.492.1818 or email volunteer@jewishmuseum.net
